Welcome to the 2010 Duluth Fall Festival

Gin Willis, Chairperson

2010 Duluth Fall Festival

Welcome to our 28th Annual Duluth Fall Festival! We are expecting the biggest and best Festival ever. New this year is a full carnival opening on Wednesday, September 22nd and running through Sunday of the Festival. The carnival will be located on Main Street across from Duluth City Hall. Everyone can enjoy amusement park rides and games.

Saturday, the Festival opens at 9:00 a.m. The parade begins at 10:00 a.m., led by Grand Marshal Brooks Coleman. We are extremely honored to have State Representative Coleman lead the Parade, as he is a long-time volunteer with the Festival. There will be drill teams, cheerleaders, sports teams, dance troupes, scout groups, antique cars, clowns, musicians and much more.

Following the parade, join us for the Opening Ceremony at the Duluth Festival Center in the heart of the Festival grounds. Mr. Coleman, will be honored, as well as our Mayor, City Council, soldiers from Fort Benning and our generous sponsors.

Sunday starts earlier, at 8 a.m., with a 5K Road Race, followed by an outdoor worship service at the Duluth Festival Center. Entertainment and fun will run until 5:00 p.m.

The Festival, itself, features almost 400 vendors from throughout the southeast featuring hand made, original fine arts and crafts such as jewelry, paintings, hand carved clocks, purses, clothing, baskets, candles, pottery, floral arrangements, quilts, furniture, wooden toys, gourmet food and much, much more. For the first time, we will have hand-blown glass being created onsite.

Also new this year is "Man's Corner" that will host several activities and products geared towards the men who tag along to please their significant others. At Man's Corner you will find a putting green, a professional fishing guide, cars, tractors, lawn mowers, and so on. Don't worry about missing that important football game, as there will be flat-screen TVs so that you can tune in.

As always, we have a variety of entertainment, including music, dancing, singing and acrobatics running continuously on three separate stages. We hope you plan on spending the whole weekend with us. You won't want to miss it!

Beautification of Duluth

The proceeds from the Festival are used towards the beautification and improvement of historic downtown Duluth. Money generated from the Festival has been used for numerous special projects, including purchasing and developing Taylor Park (including the arched entryway), bricking the Festival Center Courtyard, increasing the size of the public restrooms, purchasing planters, landscaping the streets of Duluth, lighting the historic area, and many others.

By far, the largest Festival undertaking was building the Duluth Festival Center Amphitheatre on the Town Green. The Duluth Festival Center has spurred complementary development by the City, such as the fountain, the brick walkways and curving walls on the Town Green, lantern posts, landscaping, the children's playground, and, most notably, a new City Hall.

Community Fellowship

Although the annual Festival is the organization's biggest claim to fame, developing relationships and fellowship is another important undertaking. In a world where many people don't know their own neighbor and seek community roots, we are proud to offer an opportunity for people to develop life-long friendships and make community connections to gain a feeling of being a part of something bigger than ourselves.

To promote these budding friendships, the Festival sponsors many Duluth-based events during the year, including: monthly meetings, downtown work days, an annual community luncheon (for sponsors, volunteers, city workers, and first responders), the Sizzlin' Summer Picnic (an old-fashioned potluck dinner), the Taste of Duluth, the Duluth Christmas Tree Lighting (followed by a special Christmas party for Duluth Fall Festival volunteers), and, the Duluth New Year's Eve celebration.

In addition, the Festival concert is held Saturday night two weeks before the Festival. Having the Concert before the Festival enables us to promote the upcoming Festival, have more room for concert-goers, and invite bigger-name bands. This year, Rupert's Orchestra, famous throughout the southeast performed, along with opening act, Kozmic Mama.

History of the Festival

The Duluth Fall Festival is celebrating its 28th anniversary this year. However, the real beginning dates back almost fifty years to 1962 and a five-week celebration of the history of the town. Then, in 1976, a spring festival was held to celebrate the centennial of Duluth's charter. These two festivals were the forerunners of today's Duluth Fall Festival. In late October 1983, the first annual Duluth Fall Festival was organized by a handful of citizens (a few of whom are still involved with the Festival today). The weather was cold and rainy and profits were small; however, the enthusiasm persisted, and the decision was made to hold it annually. In 1984, the Festival date was changed in 1984 to the last weekend in September, in hopes of better weather.

Many other additions to the Festival occurred that year: the first Festival tabloid was published that year by the Gwinnett Daily News, he number of committees doubled from three to six, the first entertainment stage was built, and the first Road Race was held.

Through the years, the Festival has continued to grow and change. In 1985, the first official T-shirts were donated by Tom Martin of Citizen's Bank. By 1987, the number of committees had grown to 19 (including the so-necessary Cleanup committee). The first "Miss Duluth" pageant was held that year, and a picnic area was designated. 1988 brought the first Silent Auction, along with the threat of Hurricane Hugo. In 1993, a concert replaced the traditional Street Dance. By 1996, the number of committees had grown to 36, and the number of booths to about 250. It was a banner year in other ways, too, with the purchase of Taylor Park and the addition of the all-important Sponsor program.

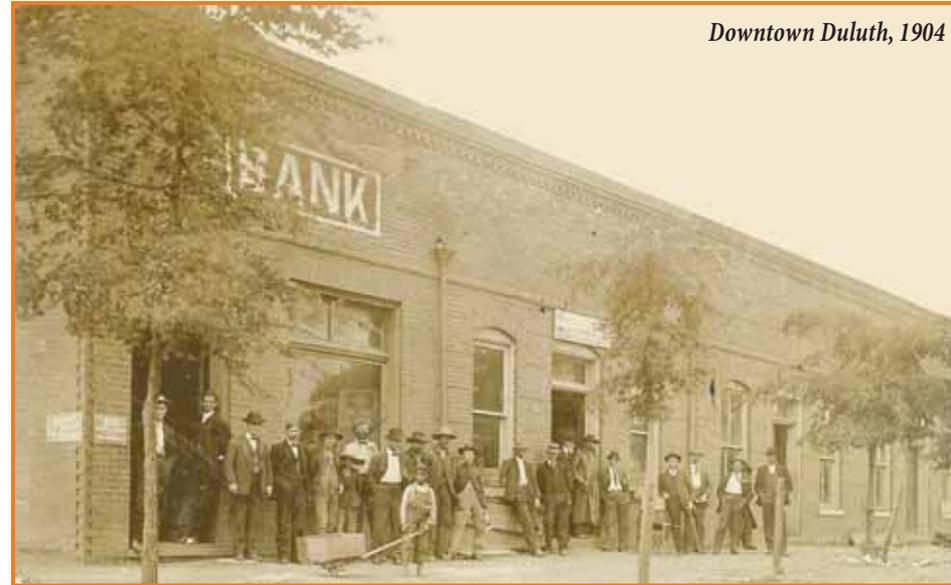

Unfortunately, though 1996 was almost a total rainout. For that reason, in 1997, the Festival was changed to a two-day event, to salvage at least one day in case of rain. Coincidentally, that is exactly what happened that year.

Now, twenty-seven years after the first annual event, the Duluth Fall Festival is one of the most successful festivals in the southeast. Since 1983, the size of the Festival has grown immensely. The number of separate committees has gone from 3 to 45, the number of volunteers has grown from 25 to more than 300, the number of Arts & Crafts and Food booths number almost 400, and the crowds have increased, too.

If you are interested in volunteering with the Festival, we would love to have you.

For information, send an e-mail message to dffMembership@gmail.com, visit our Web site at www.duluthfallfestival.org, or see any volunteer.

Duluth Fall Festival Parade & Opening Ceremony

Kicking off the Festival at 10 a.m. on Saturday morning is the traditional Duluth Fall Festival Parade. With an anticipated 100 groups, the Parade celebrates Duluth's sense of community. A colorful assortment of drill teams, cheerleaders, sports teams, dance troupes, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, politicians, first responders and musicians will be traveling the Parade route and waving to spectators. Duluth's two High Schools, Duluth and Peachtree Ridge, will be represented by their respective marching bands.

Grand Marshal of the 2010 Parade is long-time Duluth resident and State Representative Brooks Coleman. The official, "Voice of the Duluth Wildcats," Mr. Coleman is a motivational speaker and retired educator who served as assistant superintendent of Gwinnett County Schools, director of curriculum development, administrative assistant to the superintendent, principal of two elementary schools and one primary school, teacher and coach. He was selected as the Georgia State Legislator of the Year by the Professional Association of Georgia Educators.

Immediately after the Parade, join us at the Festival Center Amphitheatre to honor local dignitaries in the Opening Ceremony. The Parade

Grand Marshal will be featured, as well as soldiers from Fort Benning. The Opening Ceremony is also the Festival's opportunity to acknowledge our generous sponsors, without whom, the Festival and its many improvement projects would not be possible.

Parade Route
The Parade starts on Main Street (near the Monarch School), continues south and east to Highway 120, turns south Buford Highway, and ends at Hardy Industrial Boulevard (see the Duluth Fall Festival map, below).

Coming back to Duluth

by Bill Vanderford

Despite being inducted into the National Freshwater Hall of Fame as a Legendary Fishing Guide, traveling the globe while winning hundreds of awards for both my writing and photography, and winning a racing championship in sports cars, I have missed the personal contact with the local community. Thanks to an exciting series of events and the addition of the all new "Man's Corner" for those of us who live an active lifestyle, I'm back at the Duluth Fall Festival this year to meet and greet both newcomers and those in the Duluth community who have been to my fishing classes, fished with me, or who have followed my writing in newspapers and magazines over the years. I'll be available to answer questions, and selling books, Swirleybird Lures, fishing jewelry, and prints of some of my award-winning photos. It will certainly be an exciting reunion for all of us!

Festival Welcomes Soldiers Home from Iraq

Join us as we “Welcome Home” Fort Benning’s 1st Battalion, 15th Infantry Regiment “CAN DO” soldiers who are just returning from their fourth deployment to Iraq. On Sat. at 10 a.m., Rear Detachment Commander, CPT Andrew Lerch, will lead the 1-15 troops through the streets of downtown Duluth. Come early to get your spot. Watch for our Festival volunteers to hand out flags along the parade route. Wave them high and cheer these soldiers as they pass you by.

Be sure to attend the Opening Ceremony at 11:30 where the 1-15 troops will be recognized for their service to our country. Witness the surprise of a soldier meeting his adoptive family face-to-face for the first time! Afterwards, stop by the Hugs for Our Soldiers’ booth on the Town Green to meet & shake the hands of these American Heroes. Try on their Kevlar to experience the weight of their body armor. Learn how you can help welcome other soldiers home.

Regretfully, LTC Ken Harvey, Commander of the 1-15 Infantry, is unable to be at the Festival because he’s still in Iraq, but standing in his place is his family: wife, Janice, and children, Kait, Jake, Zach & Emily. When asked, “What does Duluth Fall Festival mean to your family and you,” Mrs. Harvey stated, “The Festival has become a tradition in our family. We feel like we’re at ‘home’ from the moment we arrive. The citizens always extend such a warm welcome, and it’s heartwarming to see them embracing the soldiers and thanking them for their service. Our children refer to Duluth as ‘the town just north of Atlanta where they love the military’. This Fall Festival will be bitter-sweet for us as it will be the last one our family will attend with the 1-15. But as we move to our next job with the Army, I know the legacy of what the Duluth Fall Festival and Hugs for Our Soldiers provides to our troops will continue on.”

Thanks to the efforts of Hugs for Our Soldiers, a Tennessee-based organization originally founded in Duluth by Kathy Orcutt, and through donations by Russ & Melanie Sheldon and numerous Duluth businesses, these soldiers will receive breakfast sandwiches from Burger King to welcome them to Duluth, a complimentary lunch from Boudreaux’s, free hotel stay, dinner at Dave & Buster’s and attend a concert at Wild Bill’s. Thank you, Duluth, for helping the Festival roll out the red carpet for our military and for being the patriotic community that you are!!

Arts & Crafts

More than 250 carefully selected artists and crafts booths will line the Town Green and streets of Duluth at the Festival this year. Vendors will offer everything from paintings and photographs, wood crafts, pottery and glassware, furniture, floral arrangements and decorative accessories, baskets, adult and children's clothing, doll clothes and toys, jewelry, candles and soap, stitchery and many other items will be available to Festival-goers. Warning: With the variety of unique items, you are bound to find something that piques your interest and that you have to take home!

Most vendors are local or from the across the southeast. However, with our growing reputation as one of the best Festivals in the southeast, we are fortunate enough to have one vendor from as far away as Minnesota and another all the way from Virginia.

Several Arts & Crafts vendors return to the Festival year after year; a few have participated for more than 20 years. However, William Crissey, of Gwinnett Gallery, holds the record—he has participated in all 28 Festivals! When possible, returning vendors are located in the same general area. However, if you have trouble finding a specific vendor, visit the Information Booth on Main Street or ask one of our Zone Coordinators (a volunteer with a walkie-talkie) for help. They will gladly guide you to the vendor that you are seeking.

Silent Auction

Shout it out loud... the Silent Auction will host five auctions during the weekend, three on Saturday, and two on Sunday. We have a variety of great merchandise donated by Festival vendors and local businesses, including many restaurant and service-oriented gift certificates, and gift baskets of all kinds.

If you have never participated in a silent auction before, here's how it works: A group of items are displayed with an attached bid sheet specifying the minimum opening bid as well as the minimum incrementing bid. To bid on an item, write your name on the first available bid line, raising the bid by at least the minimum amount. If you are the highest bidder at closeout time, the item is yours!

Understandably, the Silent Auction tent gets quite busy when closeout time is near, so arrive in plenty of time to place your bids.

Closeout Times

Saturday – 1:00 p.m.,

3:00 p.m., 5:00 p.m.

Sunday – 2:00 p.m., 4:00 p.m.

 Duluth
28th Annual FALL FESTIVAL

For Kids of All Ages: Carnival & Games

While you shop the Arts & Crafts booths, kids of all ages can stay busy at the Festival by visiting the Carnival and Games area. New this year, is a full-fledged commercial carnival with a variety of rides and activities. And, even better: you don't have to wait until the Festival starts to go to the carnival! The carnival will open on Wednesday, September 22 and remain open until the Festival ends on Sunday.

In addition to the carnival, the adjacent Games area provides inflatable slides and activities for kids 7 and under. All of these events are located on Main Street, across from City Hall. Don't worry about going hungry while you are in the Carnival and Games area; nearby booths will be selling cotton candy, popcorn, drinks, and standard Festival fare.

Where to Go for Help

If you need help while you are visiting the Festival, need assistance locating a specific vendor, or if you lose an item, stop by the Information and Lost & Found booth located in front of the General Store. You can also ask any volunteer for assistance.

First aid is available at the Gwinnett Hospital System Care-A-Van located behind Huthmaker's Violins.

About the Cover

Since 1985, all of the tabloid covers have featured local artists and contained either a Duluth or fall theme. This year's cover was created by local artist Ann Parsons Odum. Ann's pastel paintings have been used in numerous Duluth Fall Festival publications over the years. To see a collection of these specialty covers, visit the General Store during the Festival.

About the Festival T-Shirt

Each year, the Festival T-shirt design and color is a long anticipated surprise. The current T-shirt design and the Duluth Fall Festival logo were created by Duluth citizen Cindy Sutt of Rock, Paper, Scissors. The Festival Chairperson chooses the color of the shirt.

Entertainment

As always, Elvis (Duluth's own Mark Pitt) will be in the building to kick off two days of continuous entertainment. And, walking throughout the Festival, puppeteer Kevin Pittman and His Forest Friends will entertain children of all ages.

With more than 20 acts on three stages, there will be something for everyone. After performing, the entertainers can be found at the Meet the Entertainers Tent beside the stage where they performed. This is the place to go to find out more information about your favorite acts and purchase their CDs, T-shirts and other promotional items. You can also find out about booking them for an event. Because all of our entertainers perform non-gratis to benefit the Festival, we encourage you to support them with a purchase of their wares.

Our performers sound great thanks to our wonderful volunteer sound staff. Our two primary sound engineers, Earl Griffith (Festival Center stage) and Michael Robbins (Gazebo stage) graciously lend the Festival sound equipment and run our sound systems during the entire Festival.

For more information about the entertainers performing at the Duluth Fall Festival, and links to their personal Web sites, go to the following Web address:

2010 Taste of Duluth

On September 16th, the Duluth Fall Festival volunteers honored sponsors and special guests at the annual Taste of Duluth. During this elegant evening, guests sampled menu items from several local restaurants, while enjoying wine, beer, and beverages supplied by nearby retailers. Musical group Tres de Solei set the atmosphere with their Celtic-inspired sounds. The Taste of Duluth is hosted by the Payne-Corley House and coordinated by Festival Volunteers Annette McIntosh and Annette Summerour.

General Store & Auction

At the Festival General store, you can find a variety of seasonal merchandise to decorate for autumn. In addition to fall knick-knacks, you will find Festival-related wares, such as reusable shopping bags with the Festival logo on them. Other items available in the General Store include Festival T-shirts (both adult and children) as well as copies of the current newspaper tabloid.

Besides being your Festival merchandise headquarters, the General Store is also an easily spotted landmark. You'll recognize it as the tent surrounded with fall decorations, complete with mums, pumpkins and scarecrows. It is centrally located on Main Street, near the flag pole in the Festival Courtyard. All volunteers can guide you to it. Consider using it as a meeting place to connect with friends during this busy weekend.

At 3 p.m. on Sunday, come to the General Store for a special auction of the Festival decorations. Items to be auctioned include the pumpkins and mums displayed at the Festival.
